ot exclude a juryman for having an opin- House, President Greeley organized an army of two hundred thousand men, and proceeded to force the entire population of the sea-board States westward at the point of the bayonet. The utmost violence was used. Those who resisted were shot down, and their dead bodies were carted off to a national factory which the President had established for making some kind of fantastical fertilizer. All the large cities of the latt was to-day re-nominated for Congress East were depopulated, and the towns were entirely empty. The army swept before it millions of men, women and children, until the vast plains west of Kansas were reached, when the pursuit ceased, and the army was drawn up in a continuous line, with orders to shoot any person who attempted to visit the East. Of course hundreds of thousands of these poor creatures perished from starvation. This seemed to band!" Does not this show how far the frighten President Greeley, and he sent a Greeley party has become reconciled to the message to Congress recommending that omped at Monterey with 4,000 men, while seven hundred thousand volumes of a book of his, entitled "What I Know About Farming," should be voted for the relief of the starving sufferers. This was done, and enting on the locking out of various farming implements and seeds were sup-plied, and then the millions of wretched outcasts made an effort to till the ground. Of the result of this I will speak further

In the mean time the President was doing infinite harm to the country in another way. His handwriting was so fearfully and wonderfully bad that no living man could read it. And so, when he sent his firstannual message to Congress—the document moon was most severe in the inland was devoted wholly to the tariff and agrinties, where at some points the fury of culture-a sentence appeared which subsequently was ascertained to be, "Large cultivation of rutabagas and beans is the only hope of the American nation, I am sure." The printers, not being able to inand Northwestern Railway and a number terpret this, put it in the following form, in which it went to the world: "The Czar and completely wrecked. Many buildings of Russia couldn't keep clean if he washed and trees at other points were struck by himself with the whole Atlantic Ocean once a day !" This perversion of the message was immedialy telegraphed to Russia Wolverhampton the crops were prostrated by the Russian minister, and the Czar was and destroyed. ed war. Just at this time President Greeley undertook to write some letters to Prince Bismarck upon the subject of potato rot, and, after giving his singular views oner of Internal Revenue declines a suit at great length, he concluded with the test the constitutionality of the tax on statement that if the Emperor William he New York Central Railroad scrip. Queer Case of Insanity.

"A colored woman of the Ninth Dis trict, named Jane Stockard, was arrested yesterday upon a writ of inquirendo de lunatico, and pronounced insane. The cause of her present erratic state of mind is said to be the prolonged absence of her husband, who is a soldier in the United States Army, and from whom she has had no tidings for a long space of time. This is certainly a singular instance of affection in one of a race notorious for the looseness of their affections and marital obligations. She was transferred to the County Asy-

The above is from the Nashville Banner, the most Simon pure, "unconditional Greelev paper in the South, It is a local editorial entire. It is not a garbled extract, but the full, round voice of the Greeley organ, towards the colored people, as affections and marital obligations." "A queer case of insanity," says the Greeleyite! And why? "Queer," because forsooth the unfortunate is "a colored wosooth the unfortunate is "a colored worights, interests and welfare of the colored people? This article contains a libel on the whole colored race. It seeks to rob them of all humane sympathies and feelings and degrade them to the level of the brute creation, and incapable of "affection and marital obligations.

Such everybody knew to be the theory of the ancient slave lords of the South, who held to the tenets of the slave code, and attempted to establish "s new Gospel," in which it was taught the colored race descended from the monkey, and slavery was "a divine institution." But it was not to have been supposed that the chief organ of Horace Greeley, who is now a candidate seeking the suffrage of the colored voters of the country, would thus review the paradox of incapacity, "on account of race and color," by asserting the colored race to be notorious for the looseness of their affections and marital obligations. It may be supposed, however, that the foregoing view of the matter may have largely contributed to the past course of many of the present Greeley men of the with the wives and daughters of these slaves. However this may be there is no risk in asserting that nine tenths of the supporters of Greeley and Brown throughout the Southern States are correctly represented by the local editor of the Banner, or at least by the editorial copied, which is supposed to come from that member of the staff. And yet these men seek to carry the ment. Southern States for their ticket by the aid of colored votes. Indeed, there in not a sane man. possessed with any degree of political information, in the State, who supposes for a moment the Democracy ment can carry Tennessee, unless they can succeed in dividing the colored vote with the Republicans.

Grant electors and stump speakers would do well to clip this article and give it a place in their scrap books, as it will make good reading to the colored portion of their audiences, as well as show to all classes of sincere people that the professions of the Cincinnati platform which the Banner keeps standing in its colums, are only intended as a sugar coating to induce the people to swallow the Democratic party, whose cardinal creed is defined by Mr. Greeley himself to be, "love, rum and hate niggers." And of which Democracy the same Mr. Greeley has said; "May it be written on my grave that I never was a follower, and lived and died in nothing its

of the thermometer and the occasional report of a case of sunstroke, remind us unpleasantly that the plague of our hot summers and close cities is upon us, and sugfor its prevention and understand something of its proper treatment. A knowledge of its rational treatment should be possessed by all, for the disease is often so rapidly fatal that the patient not unfrequently dies before medical aid can be had. The following extract from an able article by Dr. H. C. Wood, in Lippincott for July contains much valuable information on the subject and should be carefully read by all those who are exposed to intense heat:

If the abstraction of heat is the true cause for suntroke, it is also the true preexposure to heat there are various measures that ought to be adopted. The clothing should be light and whitish in color and fit loosely. Flannel is probably, on the whole the best material. A roomy, wide brimmed porous hat should be used, and in the crown of it may be placed a wet towel or large handkerchief. Water should be freeley used, externally and internaly. Very close to the surface of the wrist rises a large artery, the radial, and the old custom of allowing cold water to run over the wrist, no doubt owes its value to the fact that so much blood is brought Tin, Copper and Sheet-Iron Ware, almost in contact with the cooling water. Sweating is nature's great refrigerative remedy, and to keep up this, large quantities of water should be drunk, not too cold, but without stint-quarts if the thirst crave it. You ask me to tell you, my children, of the events which immediately preceded the destruction of the once great American Union, and the capture of the country something also of the cause which led to vert to that terrible time I can not help contrasting our proud condition up to that fatal year with the humiliating position occupied now by the American people.
The story is a short one. In the fall of 1872 Horace Greeley, the editor of a newspaper in New York, was elected President of the United States. The people voted honest man; and so he was. But he was also vain and weak, and he entertained certain fanatical and preposterous notions -about agricultural matters, for instance
